

...february 4, 2013...

there's a heron singing opera
through the corners of my mind –
it's giant beak unhinging the silences of sound –

an orchestra of sunshine –
an audience of air –
a sudden hush unravelling
it's oscillating prayer –

the quietness crescendos
into a breathless pause with firmament vibrating inaudible applause.

