

...may 24, 2018...

a gibbous moon tonight – i am examining the close and near of dusk while checking out my brain –

i think i left you wondering if it was afternoon
when evening caught us wandering between the pub and home –

it is not past or ever
we need to recognize but nows that live forever that shape our next disguise.

©pamela swanson
www.poetpam.com

