

...june 25, 2018...

be(li)e(ves)

dare to believe that there are bees buzzing through infinity – bees that tip that balance point of seesawing polarities –

without the bees there would be no flowers – grasses – bushes – trees – no honey and no humming song bustling the spring along –

bees will never understand what human beings call a weed so dare to breath the fragrances of burdock – thistle – dandelion –

*dare to believe that bees and bees vibrate a world consciousness –
from food to clothes and hearth to home
we are the recipients.*

©pamela swanson

www.poetpam.com