

...august 19, 2018...

halfway empty - halfway full she practises a halfway smile and takes a halfway walk around the halfway lost of lost lagoon - a halfway tear and halfway laugh capturing her halfway thoughts to rearrange a halfway life into directions half defined - whispering a halfway prayer into the ears of no-one there she walks into the down of town halfway lost and halfway found - she drifts through streets of almost near as faceless face and wanderer - halfway crowded - half alone returning to a halfway home.

@pamela swanson
www.poetpam.com

