

...january 4, 2018...

i am flood and i am drought - i am the all that breathes and grows - knowing i am so much more than work and sleep and eat and clothes - fragment thoughts hook deep inside each moment that my eyes perceive as i become the other selves of raindrops on a million leaves - i am the now in everything sourcing each inner-outer verse exploring beyond moons and suns melding into the all-that-is.
