if we create the world we see out of all we do and believe – and the world that I know is mostly me reflecting me – if you reflect the world you know overlapping dual beliefs with viewpoints and realities of intersecting frequencies –

if the people that we see live unique realities that blend and weave realities both similar and different –

then when are both together we become an entity with part of me and part you uniting our realities –

so – it also must be true that you are me and i am you weaving our dualities by living different points of view.
